Have learned so much already on both the blues and scatting. Can't wait to continue the learning.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Blues for jazz singers.By Giskard ReventlovExploring the Blues has a lot of good stuff in it, but...The scat exercises drive me nuts. The scat exercises are tongue twisters and hard to follow. Besides, I doubt that Muddy Waters and Robert Johnson ever did much scatting.This book is more like blues for jazz singers.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Love the vocal exercisesBy Mary T.Love the vocal exercises! Someone recommended this CD to me, and he shared that he has been doing these vocal exercrise for over two years. He is an accomplished musician who has excellent vocals. I find that my listening and vocals become more sensitive, with these exercises.

(Vocal Collection). Hear It and Sing It! Exploring the Blues is an effective tool for learning to sing and improvise on blues. Designed for people who love to sing, as well as for students and teachers in vocal jazz programs, it includes a step-by-step approach to learning blues lyrics, forms, harmony, scales and improvisation, with a brand new repertoire of songs. Vocal examples followed by accompaniment-only tracks make learning easy and enjoyable. New songs include lyrics added to compositions by jazz greats Dexter Gordon (plus lyrics to his solo), Johnny Griffin, Gigi Gryce, Julian Priester and Norman Simmons as well as compositions by Judy Niemack and Sheila Jordan. The book includes: blues forms, scales and harmony; transcriptions of exercises and improvised solos; accurate lead sheets for 14 contemporary blues songs; examples of 12 different blues forms; scat syllables; blues riffs; "Voices in Blues" history chapter; Listening and repertoire suggestions; and two CDs. The CDs include: 14 songs and exercises sung by Judy Niemack, Sheila Jordan, Mark Murphy and Darmon Meader; "Hear It and Sing It" blues warm-ups, riffs, scales and harmony; recordings of each song featuring vocal plus accompaniment-only; exciting accompaniment tracks by top New York City jazz musicians; and more.
