helpful.8 of 15 people found the following review helpful. a wonderful book! read, learn and earn!By unies4u@aol.comThe original title of this book says it best: the education of a horseplayer. Simply put, the more educated a handicapper you are, the better your chances at winning at the track. Learn the racing game from one of the legends of the sport: Sam "The Genius" Lewin, and walk away from the track with a fatter wallet too!6 of 12 people found the following review helpful. A man and his trackBy A CustomerI think Sam Lewin knew all there was to know about horse racing and tells it all in his book. All that you'll ever need to know about the race track is in his book. You need read no further. I knew his son Gregg and he too had such an extremely high IQ that I think he should have been called Gregg "the genius's son" Lewin. Gregg loved the track just as his father did and they are both in heaven now and I BET they are at the track there!

An ageless classic which still applies today.
