BBC : I'm Sorry I Haven't A Christmas Clue (BBC Radio Collection) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised I'm Sorry I Haven't A Christmas Clue (BBC Radio Collection):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The antidote to carolling. By Clem Urry Unique twist on the usual ISIHAC format, but attempts to include proper rounds into the Dickensian story actually seem rather lumpen. Funnier than coal on Christmas Day, it's well paced, well played, and well funny.

Originally broadcast on Christmas Day 2003, the I'm Sorry I Haven't a Clue Players present their unique interpretation of Dickens' A Christmas Carol, starring Humphrey Lyttelton as Ebenezer Scrumph, Colin Sell as his downtrodden assistant Crotchet, and Graeme Garden, Tim Brooke-Taylor, and Barry Cryer as the Ghosts of Christmas Future, Present, and P*ssed. This Yuletide extravaganza is not to be missed! Plus, there's a generous stockingful of silly games and pointless revelry from the merry gentlemen of the Clue team, including some memorable moments from the much-missed Willie Rushton. Join them for a feast of festive fun with all the seasonal trimmings. 2 CDs. 2 hrs 14 mins.
