Has several different types of styles for games in it. Some are beyond her knowledge. Like answering questions on some 80's tv shows and then finding those in the word list. Can look in back for answers and then find, but thats a bit of a pain. Might be geared for a bit older group.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Best word search available!By die komponistinBy far the most interesting word search collection out there! Who really wants to look for nonspecific nouns when you can search for Atari games, vampires, and much more?!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Lana GibsonLots of fun and clear words

If we say Swift and you think Taylor (not Jonathan), you'll find these puzzles AWESOME! They're all pop-culture-savvy, with word search themes that range from Harry Potter spells to The Price Is Right. Each one also features a quip or quote made from the unused letters, for an extra-fun challenge.

About the Author Trip Payne worked for several puzzle magazines before embarking on a freelance puzzlemaking career. His puzzles have appeared in many national publications and he has had two "15 minutes of fame" so far: as the third contestant ever to appear on the US version of Who Wants to Be a Millionaire and as one of the crossword solvers profiled in the documentary Wordplay. Payne has also worked on the game shows Million Dollar Password and Scrabble Showdown and is a three-time champion of the American Crossword Puzzle Tournament. He lives in West Hollywood, CA.
