The CDs are a good compliment to the book studies, but are difficult for the student to coordinate, so I found them not very useful as a teaching tool. The duet teacher accompaniment provided in the books is a fun way to emphasize rhythm with each lesson. As a teacher, I am still not convinced that learning from "fingering" and "up or down" is the way to go in teaching the keyboard. Jury is still out on this approach. The zippered case is useless and only bent the corners of the enclosed books...sounded like a good idea, but not. All in all, the complete kit is a good value for the money. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. This set has a lot of variety and makes learning the piano interested and fun! By Alison Our 5 and 7 year olds started taking piano lessons a few months ago and this was the set their teacher wanted us to provide for them. So far both children are enjoying piano lessons and have made a lot of progress in just a few months time. This set has a lot of variety and makes learning the piano interested and fun! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I love the way it came By Caitlyn Whichard My daughter is beginning piano lessons and this series was suggested by her teacher. I love the way it came; all neat and tidy in its own little zip binder. The pockets inside quickly broke at the bottom, but it's not that serious -- it still stays inside of the binder, regardless. Also, the price was a steal! Her teacher suggested I go to the local music store where it would be about $50, but the teacher gets a 10% discount. Of course I had to look it up on for dirt cheap. Thank you so much!
